Claims 1-4, and 6-9 are presented for examination.

The amendments and remarks filed on May 23, 2008 have been received and entered.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

Claims 1-4 and 6-9 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the written description requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to reasonably convey to one skilled in the relevant art that the inventor(s), at the time the application was filed, had possession of the claimed invention. The claims are drawn to the phrase "wherein said solution is effective as a single component solution". The instant specification fails to provide support for the phrase. Therefore, such phrase is considered to be new matter.

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 1-4 and 6-9 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Claims 1-4 and 6-9 are indefinite in failing to define a single component solution, considering that the claims use more than one component.

Claims 1-4 and 6-9 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103 (a) as being unpatentable over Asgharian et al. (US 6,139,646) in view of De Bruij et al. (US 6,162,393) for the reasons set forth on pages 3-5 of the office action of January 23, 2008.

Applicant's arguments and remarks regarding the second paragraph have been carefully considered, and are deemed to be persuasive. However, the claims are going to also be interpreted as 0% chloride, which is covered by the phrase "less than 0.2 percent by weight".

Applicant's arguments and remarks regarding the obviousness rejection have been carefully considered, but are not deemed to be persuasive. Applicant's arguments are drawn to what the composition does, and not to what it is. Applicant in his remarks argues the function of the claimed components, however, the claims are composition claims. The prior art clearly teach the addition of the claimed components to a contact lens solution. The fact, that the prior art composition contains trypsin does not effect the obviousness rejection, considering that the claims of the instant application use "comprising", which permits the addition of other components. Applicant's arguments regarding the enhanced antimicrobial efficacy of the biguanide by the addition of the claimed components and chloride concentration of less than 0.2 percent have been noted. Since the prior art uses biguanide with the same components as the claimed invention, it is expected that such combination to have increased antimicrobial activity as the claimed invention. Furthermore, the presented data in the specification are not commensurate in scope with the claimed language. Such data do not use all the claimed components commensurate in scope with the claimed concentrations. Finally, the phrase "wherein the concentration of chloride is less than 0.2 percent by weight" encompasses the lack of chloride or chloride at zero concentration, which indicates the lack of criticality of chloride in the composition.

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
